

Frida in the contamination

The painting shows the pollution from industrial factories that affect both the air and the ozone layer and this would generate global warming.